

THE DAILY NEWS.

SUNDAY, MAY 3, 1874.
JORDAN STONE, Managing Editor.
ELECTION AUGUST 6th, 1874.

FOR SUPPLY OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTIONS.
OL. STEPHEN D. POOL.
OF GRAVEN.

The DAILY NEWS is now the only paper in Raleigh that gives every morning the latest markets and other telegraphic reports. The public should note this fact.

The Sixth Judicial District.
The members of the Democratic Executive Committee for the Sixth Judicial District are requested to meet in Raleigh on Tuesday, the 24 day of June, 1874.
C. M. Cook, Chm'n.

"RESOLVED, That we earnestly recommend to the members of the Democratic-Conservative party to discourage independent candidates and all other disorganizers, and that all support be promptly withdrawn from every aspirant for office who shall oppose the regular nominees of our conventions." Resolution adopted by Democratic-Conservative State Executive Committee.

Fifth Congressional District.
The Executive Committee for this District will meet in Greensboro, N. C., on Saturday the 9th of May, for the transaction of important business.

County Executive Committees are requested to take immediate steps for the thorough organization of townships, and for holding county Conventions, preparatory for the District Convention. The time and place for the latter will be designated at an early day.

D. W. COURTS, Chm. Ex. Com.
May 1st, 1874.

In accounting for funds of the Company, the Pacific mail officers have stated that $900,000 of its money had been used in Washington to procure the subsidy.

The Virginia Legislature having adjourned, the Dispatch says of it: "There have been better and also wiser Legislatures than it was." The Dispatch hopes the experience of this session will enable the members to do better next winter.

Gov. KEMPER has signed the general tax bill for Virginia, which it is claimed places a most serious taxation upon merchants. The merchants of the leading cities of the State now declare their intention of testing the constitutionality of the bill before the highest tribunals.

A WASHINGTON telegram says there is no doubt that the civil rights bill, as amended since SUMNER's death, will pass both Houses and be a law before the end of the session. To which the Richmond Dispatch adds:

"Then away goes the University of Virginia, the Military Institute, the Agricultural College, the Medical College, and the whole public school system. There's 'reform' for you."

The amended bill differs but little from the original bill of Mr. SUMNER.

The Mayoralty of the City of Raleigh.

It will be seen from the card in another column that Mr. R. W. BEST has withdrawn as a candidate for the Mayoralty of Raleigh in favor of Mr. P. F. PESCUD. This action denotes that harmony in the ranks of those who favor an honest administration of the government of the city which alone can secure success, and Mr. BEST deserves the thanks of the community in thus withdrawing in the interest of the Conservative party. Now let every man who desires true reform in the administration of affairs go to the polls to-morrow and do his full duty, and let an honest effort be made to place the government of the city in the hands of those who desire good government.

EVERY citizen of Raleigh really desiring reform in our city government should do his whole duty to-morrow. It may not be possible to wrest the whole control of the city from the hands of those who have so long misgoverned it, but something can be done—much can be accomplished by an honest effort, and we hope to see every man at his post doing his full duty. We have nothing to lose and all to gain by making a determined effort. By fair work in the different wards of the city we can easily obtain a good honest Board of Commissioners, and this would go far towards accomplishing the end desired. Then let every citizen of Raleigh desiring the real prosperity of the city go to the polls to-morrow and vote for honest reform.

LATE dispatches from Arkansas exhibit the fact of actual bloodshed and murder occasioned by the unfortunate civil war now progressing between BROOKS and BAXTER over the gubernatorial chair. Much blame is attached to BROOKS for the whole affair, for while it is conceded that he received a majority of the votes in 1872, yet the manner of his proceedings to obtain the office, the useless disturbance and bloodshed that have followed, have served to make BROOKS odious with all right-thinking men, and to-day BAXTER has the sympathies of the enlightened public. And now that the killing has commenced there is no telling where it will end. The greed for office that now pervades every section of the country is likely to destroy every honest principle that ever belonged to the great American government.

U. S. SENATOR CARL SCHURZ on Wednesday delivered his eulogy on the late CHARLES SUMNER, in Music Hall, Boston. A very large audience was present.

The Richmond Enquirer thus concludes an able article on the civil rights bill now pending before Congress:

"The passage of this civil rights bill would be one of the boldest blows ever struck at the rights of the States. It could be productive of no good to the black race, and the white race of the South would receive it as another evidence of vindictive hatred on the part of the chiefs and leaders of the Radical party. The colored man is already invested with 'equality before the law' by the States of the South, and his liberties are conceded, and his rights respected by the Southern people. He needs no Congressional legislation to protect him. He is safe and free as he is to work out his own destiny among the white men who are fully as friendly toward him as those who would, if they could, force him into antagonism with them."

The Necessity of Thorough Party Organization.

No one above the grade of an actual idiot will deny the necessity of a thorough organization in the Conservative-Democratic party of the State. With it victory is assured to them in August next. Without a crushing and humiliating defeat is as certain as anything yet in the future can well be. The truth of this is self-evident and all argument in this direction is superfluous.

The great obstacle in the way of a prompt and efficient organization is the selfish ambition and greed of office of a few prominent men in certain sections. To advance self they hesitate not to imperil the well-being of the thousands. In order to grasp the shadow of a chance for personal aggrandizement they become the instruments of ruin to the whole. Many add spleen to the vice of cold-blooded selfishness. Added because the same estimation which they place upon their claims and merits is not accorded by a majority of their fellow-citizens, a vicious pleasure is taken in the defeat of the will of the party to which they profess to bear allegiance.

In a State in which the power of the two contending parties is so nearly balanced as in this, independent candidates work great and, frequently, irreparable injury in the party in which they spring up. In a contest where the party lines have been drawn and the issue fairly joined, and where great interests are at stake—interests in which the very life of the State are involved—the man who raises the standard of independent candidature in revolt to the decision of his party conventions, is either a traitor to his professions, or a party fealty or exhibits a disgusting lust for office, which is rebuked by the contempt of all high-minded and right-thinking men.

That we now need a vigorous and complete organization is a proposition no one will gainsay. We need it not only to use effectively our own proper forces against the enemy, but in order to control and combine other elements against the hydra-headed monster of Radicalism. We need it particularly just at the present to nip in the bud the outcroppings, in several sections of the State, of disgraceful and disgusting squabbles in our ranks over nominations. We need it, and must have it, to grasp victory and prevent disintegration. It is a waste of breath to appeal to the self-respect and patriotism of the men creating these disturbances, for the simple reason that they have none to appeal to. But an appeal is made to the true, unselfish and patriotic members of the Conservative-Democratic party in the State to frown down all such bolters and makers of mischief. If they want to obey the expressed will of the party, the sooner they are taken by the shoulders and put outside of the organization the better. They are in point of fact traitors to the cause which they profess to serve, and should not be permitted to longer play the spy in our household. Some will say that they declared themselves in advance of any convention. This is no excuse. They had no right to forestall the action of the party, besides it shows an eagerness to hunt the office which is repugnant to the feelings of a man of genuine self-respect.

The persistent office-hunter is certain to be generally unreliable and a political sharper, so the people are cautioned against the man who is ever ready to proclaim himself a candidate and glibly mouths about his claims and merits. The man who will do to trust is he who waits for his fellow-citizens to weigh his merits and claims, and thus allows the office to seek him. He never dreams of an independent candidacy and would for no consideration sacrifice his self-respect by begging or tricking for a nomination. Measures not men is his motto. We have no words, save those of cold and deep contempt, for these disorganizers—these office-seeking, shameless tricksters—but we do most earnestly appeal to the true men of the State, and these are all to be found in the ranks of our party, to let us have a thorough and complete organization and one divested of all insincere friends. With it we succeed. Without it we are defeated. If action in this respect is to be taken at all, it must be taken promptly. It is high time our forces were aligned, banners advanced and every man at his post.

THE condition of COL. JOSEPH MAYO, late Treasurer of Virginia, since his removal to the Staunton Lunatic Asylum, is said to grow worse. He has remained in a continual stupor, and there are evidences of a softening of the brain.

MAKING A BURGULAR USEFUL.—A brave woman of Boston, who refuses to have her name made public, was left in charge of several children last Thursday night, and one of them being taken sick, she summoned a woman-servant to carry a prescription to an apothecary for some medicine, but the servant came, frightened out of her wits, saying that there was a burglar concealed in a certain closet. The woman went straight to the door, and said: "If there is any burglar in the house, let him come out!" whereupon a big, sinister-looking negro stepped forth. The woman then, with the utmost coolness, handed him the prescription, saying: "Take this to the nearest apothecary's and get it filled; there is a sick child in the house." The black burglar left without a word. Meanwhile the woman, who became a little faint, called a neighbor. The latter was about to go to the apothecary's for the medicine, when a clerk called with it, saying that a negro had brought the prescription and then disappeared.

The Arkansas War—Hostilities have commenced—A Battle Fought by the two Factions—Nine Men killed and Twenty Wounded.

LITTLE ROCK, April 30.—General King White, who has charge of the Federal forces at Pine Bluff, hearing that a party of Brooks' men were assembled at New Gascony, in Jefferson county, committing depredations, moved a column of 200 men down to that point to-day for the purpose of dispersing them. A dispatch to-night to General Newton from Pine Bluff says General White sent forward a flag of truce to order the men to disperse, but they fired upon the party and a regular battle ensued, in which nine of the Brooks party were killed and twenty wounded. The remainder were taken prisoners, disarmed and sent home. General White reports seven of his own command wounded, and three horses killed.

The Lynchburg Virginian rises to explain that Miss Early, of Lynchburg, the Washington belle, who is to be married to an officer of the navy, is neither the daughter nor the niece of General Jubal A. Early, as reported.

The wedding of Miss Nelly Grant has been fixed for May 21. She will sail for England two days later with Mrs. and Miss Richardson, the wife and daughter of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Ex-Governor Gilbert C. Walker, of Virginia, is about to commence the practice of law in Richmond, having formed a copartnership with Senator Hundley from Buckingham.
